From North Carolina. - The Arrest of Davis Clay, Reagan and Stephens. NEW YORK, May 24 -The North Carolina correspondents of the Herald continue to furnish interesting accounts of the progress of events in that State, attendant on the efforts of the citizens, with the assistance of Gen. Schofield and his army, to reorganize society and restore civil government. Three candidates for Governor have already been named, and the supporters of each are preparing to establish their claims. Gen. of themselves and their families THE CAMP WHERE DAVIS WAS ARRESTED. The Herald's correspondence says: The camp | subscribe. Ga. It consisted of a large wall tent, containing only the arch traitor and his family, and an ordipary fly containing the male portion of the cara van. Surrounding and contiguous to these were two common army wagons, two ambulances, and several horses and mules, with the usual amount of camp parapharnalia, such as saddles, bridles, cooking utensils, &c Davis, himself, and Pestmaster Reagan, with the two Colonels, Lubbock and Johnson, had only overtaken the party the night before, after currency. This is a fatiguing journey from Washington, Ga, where they had remained to settle some business, as they say, while Mrs. Davis, with the children and servants, had pushed forward under the protection and escort of Private Secretary Harrison. and a few of the faithful, such as Lieut. Hathaway, Midshipman Howell, and about twenty servants and old soldiers.

It was probably at or very near Washington, where Davis dismissed his escort, and divided the spoils under the most pressing circumstances. Some of Stoneman's Cavalry were hard upon him, and he concluded to deceive them by letting his friends traveled incog, across the country and joined his family.

for I should have sent you, whether you wanted to go or not. You are a civilian prisoner, and he, Davis, is a prisoner both military and civil.
